

SUBSTANTIVE AND ANALYTICAL WORKSHOP: RETHINKING DEVELOPMENT IN A WORLD IN TRANSITION
ECLAC 70TH ANNIVERSARY
IXX EDITION OF THE ECLAC SUMMER SCHOOL ON THE LATIN AMERICAN ECONOMIES

ECLAC HEADQUARTERS, SANTIAGO, CHILE, 27-28 AUGUST 2018

Recent economic growth in Latin American and Caribbean countries has contributed to increase welfare standards, reduce poverty and tackle some of the most important development challenges in the region. However, many key issues remain unsolved, such as inequality, regional disparities, lack of domestic diversification and gender gaps, among many others, that must be analyzed and treated under a new perspective: that of “Development in Transition”. The concept of “Development in Transition” is especially relevant in the context of Latin America and the Caribbean where most of countries have been able to speed up their economic development reaching higher levels of income. Under this framework, and considering the Agenda 2030, it is important to understand the process of development as a multidimensional and interconnected one where identifying the main changes in the scope of public policies is a key issue.

This workshop aims to discuss the need to rethink development, analyze some of the key dimensions of the process as well as the interconnection between them.

Monday 27st August

This day will focus on advances in economic thought and their implications for rethinking development focusing in some specific dimensions of development

- 9:30 – 10:00 Opening Session. Towards a New Consensus on Development for Latin America and the Caribbean
Alicia Bárcena, Executive Secretary, ECLAC
Stella Zervoudaki, Ambassador and Head of the European Union Delegation in Chile (TBC)
- 10:00 – 10:30 ECLAC’s 70th Anniversary Essay Contest on “The future of Equality in Latin America and the Caribbean”, sponsored by ECLAC, Nodal and Le Monde Diplomatique Prize-giving Ceremony
Nicolás Valenzuela-Levi
Mariana E. Correa
- 10:30 – 10:45 Coffee break
- 10:45 – 11:30 Income distribution, economic policy and growth under a long-time perspective
Mark Setterfield, New School University
- 11:30 – 12:15 Prebisch in a World in Transition
Marcos Troyjo, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University
- Chair: Martín Abeles*, Chief of Office, ECLAC Office in Buenos Aires
- 12:15 – 13:00 Debate

- 13:00 – 14:00 Lunch break
- 14:00 – 14:45 Innovation and competition in global economy
William Lazonick, President and Co-founder, Academic Industry Research Network
- 14:45 – 15:30 Productivity and structural change
André Nassif, Fluminense Federal University
- Chair: Gabriel Porcile*, Economic Affairs Officer, ECLAC
- 15:30 – 16:00 Debate
- 16:00 – 16:15 Coffee break
- 16:15 – 17:00 Development as intergenerational Justice: Lines for a possible joint path
Alberto Pirni, Sant’Anna School of Advanced Studies, University of Pisa
- 17:00 – 17:45 The contribution of feminist economics to development
Sarah Bradshaw, Middlesex University
- Chair: Pedro Brieger*, Nodal Portal Latinoamericano
- 17:45 – 18:15 Debate

Tuesday 28th August

Focus on political problems related to globalization and how they make us rethink social and environmental sustainability, institutions, freedom, capabilities and democracy

- 09:30 – 10:00 Globalization, industrial revolution and emerging trends in the international system: New challenges for development in transition
Mario Cimoli, Deputy Executive Secretary, ECLAC
- 10:00 – 10:30 New institutions for development
Federico Bonaglia, Deputy Director, Development Center, OECD
- Chair: Sebastian Rovira*, Economic Affairs Officer, ECLAC
- 10:30 – 10:45 Coffee break
- 10:45 – 12:30 Roundtable: Institutions, Policies and Contracts for Development in Transition
- Chair: Mario Cimoli*, Deputy Executive Secretary, ECLAC